Saving Hale'iwa Surf Center

A group of local residents, spearheaded by Friends of Ali'i Beach, is working on a plan to refurbish the Hale'iwa Surf Center.

The first action item will be to paint the exterior of the building. Provided we get approval from the Parks Department the painting will be done by volunteers on Saturday October 11, starting at 9 a.m, so that the building will be sparkling for the Menehune Surf contest that starts October 18. All equipment will be provided and volunteers are needed to assist.

Also on Saturday October 11 there will be a park cleanup for the Menehune Contest and keiki and families are asked to come and help.

Future plans include an inspection of the structure to identify problems and provide solutions so the building can be completely refurbished rather than the alternative of demolishing the building and erecting a new structure. The new building approach would be much more costly and take significantly longer than fixing the existing building.

Part of the plan, which is still being developed and is open to community input, includes restarting the keiki water sports training program that used to be run at Ali'i beach. The equipment for the program is still stored on the second floor, and is in good condition, but access is not currently available.

Please support the program by helping with the painting and Park clean up on October 11. Local restaurants have agreed to provide delicious snacks for the volunteers.

Why I Am Voting Gil Riviere for Senate

On November 4, your vote for our next State Senator will make a very big difference for our quality of life, from Mokuleia to Kahaluu, for years to come.

I will enthusiastically vote for Gil Riviere, and I strongly urge you, your family and friends to "Vote for Gil!"

I have known Gil, his wife Liz, and their two children since our sons played youth soccer years ago. He always impressed me with his passion for family and community, his dedication to maintaining the rural values of the North Shore, and his ability to deeply understand and respectfully engage in discussion of difficult issues that affect us all.

Unlike some other politicians who might just talk about problems, "Gil got it done." He spent thousands of hours over the years tirelessly volunteering his time for community causes on the Neighborhood Board, Chamber of Commerce, Waialua Little League, Keep the North Shore Country, and the Laniakea Traffic Task Force. He made a difference - not for himself, but for all of us.

And, whether at a neighborhood board meeting or in the State Legislature, Gil serves with compassion and respect for others. I have not always agreed with Gil on the issues, but I admire his smarts and the respectful manner in which he speaks to other people, even when they disagree. He is cordial, smart, and kind. We need a Senator with that kind of temperament.

Gil is the only candidate who has proven – from years in the community trenches and through real results (compared to disingenuous statements on slick campaign brochures) – that he is truly committed to

Haleiwa Jodo Mission

66-279A Haleiwa Road (next to Ali'i Beach Park) By Denise Antolini, Pupukea resident preserving the rural character of our North Shore and Windward communities.

He will work hard to ensure sustainable smart growth for our community, to build on our natural assets such as agriculture, open space, and local entrepreneurship, instead of allowing urban sprawl to trample those unique values. He knows that our infrastructure is already at capacity, that our parks and schools are under-funded, and that our region must have a strong voice in the State Legislature. By working in a collegial way in the Senate, Gil will have the clout to help us address these challenging issues for our community.

I know from spending hours with Gil at the Capitol that his legislative colleagues — from both right and left — value Gil's presence at the Legislature, his intelligence, and his open, friendly manner. He gave the North Shore a credible, respected voice in the House. Now, with your help, he can give us a strong, respected voice in the Senate.

The North Shore is a special place that needs a Senator we can be proud of – someone committed to respecting our past while wisely investing in our future. In my view, there is no question that Gil is that person. He's getting my vote and I hope you agree he also deserves yours. Vote for Gil!

Respecting our past while investing in our future.

Aloha,

My name is Kent Fonoimoana and I am a candidate for House District 47 which includes the region from Waiahole to Waialua. I grew up in Lanikai. My father was a commercial fisherman. My mother is a retired school teacher with a 29-year career in the Koʻolau Loa region.

I am a graduate of Kahuku High School and Windward Community College. I am an alumni of BYU Hawaii and Eastern Arizona Jr. College.

I have been active in our community for many years. On multiple occasions I have represented my community as Precinct President and as a delegate to State political conventions. I've successfully introduced resolutions at the Neighborhood Board, met with private, state and county leaders to discuss community concerns, gone door-to-door to include community members in discussions and provided testimony on many key local and state-wide issues. I am no stranger to leadership or pro-actively doing what it takes to represent others who share common issues, struggles, and hopes we all have for ourselves, our families, and our communities.

I currently reside in Kahuku and operate a small business, so I understand the many challenges business owners face.

For the past 5 years, I have served as a Director on the Kahuku Community Association Board. I am in my second 2-year term representing Kahuku at the Ko'olau Loa Neighborhood Board. I enjoy being of service and representing others. It has been an honor to contribute to the betterment of our district and our island community. With your support and input I hope to find more ways to be an effective, Voice of the People.

My Platform

Early Childhood Education – We need to invest in our children to prepare them for future opportunities that will enable them to stay here at home and thrive. Food Security – I will advocate to preserve agriculture land, label genetically engineered food and for disclosure of chemicals used in agriculture production, while still protecting farmers.

Energy Production – In our transition to renewables, the consumer's wallet and personal energy independence must be considered first.

Climate change – Weather patterns are changing and impacts are already occurring here in Hawaii. We should begin preparations now to mitigate impacts. Development – We need smart growth policies that meet our needs while still "Keeping the Country COUNTRY".

If you have concerns about any of these issues – JUST VOTE!

My message of balance has been resonating with others as evidence by key endorsements my campaign has received. I know that no endorsement is more important than the endorsements I hope to receive from individual community members who live, work, and play in each community in District 47.

I would be honored if you cast your vote for me. Mahalo. Kent Fonoimoana

State Representative Richard Lee Fale Serving You in District 47

Champion For Rural Communities

Representative Richard Fale is a man of integrity and a voice for our values and way of life. He is a fighter who will defend our rights whether in the Middle East or at the State Capitol, a devoted servant to his country, to his community, to his faith and to his family. Richard and his wife of 3 years, Erin, live in Hauula and hope to raise their family right here in Koolauloa. The well-being of families is what drives Richard to help make Hawai'i a better place for generations to come.

Richard is proud to serve as the current Republican state representative for House District 47, which includes Koolauloa and North Shore Oahu. He is seeking the office of State Senate for District 23, which was vacated by its current state senator, who unsuccessfully ran for higher office.

In his two years in office, Richard brought the voice of rural communities to the State Capitol, advocating for comparable allocation of taxpayers' money to our schools, roads, bridges and other critical infrastructure needs. He is committed to bridging the gap between government and community and help make government work for the people who elected them.

Some of Richard's accomplishments while in the State Legislature include:

- Defeated efforts to unjustifiably raise the general excise tax and other measures that would increase the cost of living for the people of Hawaii
- Along with his colleagues in the State House, voted to reduce the state's budget by $200 million
- Stood by our seniors by not accepting any efforts to tax pensions and retirements
- Helped ensure House bipartisan support for a $40 million Turtle Bay Resort land agreement that, unlike any other proposals or efforts before it, would give the maximum benefit for all members of the community at the lowest cost.
- Helped bring a pilot program to ease decadelong traffic problems at Laniakea Beach
- Voted to repeal the controversial Public Land Development Corporation only 2 years after it was signed into law

As your Senator, Richard will continue to:

- Be a strong voice for families and values at the State Capitol
- Help families from Hawaii be able to afford to stay in Hawaii, including increasing affordable housing options in the community
 - Reduce taxes and fees and keep the cost of living down

Work to preserve the unique character of our rural community

One of his most important efforts is helping to fund the needs of our rural schools, especially Waialua Intermediate and High School's gymnasium and Kahuku Intermediate and High School's athletic field. He also wants to help look for innovative funding sources for educational needs as so many of our elementary schools struggle to afford important materials and critical positions that help make their school run smoothly and effectively. Through creative approaches like taking tax revenue streams from companies within the community and working to apply that money directly to the community that surrounds the business, Richard hopes to help make our government work more efficiently for the great people to Senate District 23 and the people of Hawaii.

Looking forward to a brighter future for our community!

Representative Lauren Matsumoto Serving You in District 45

Aloha, my name is Lauren Cheape Matsumoto. It has been my honor to serve you in the Hawai'i State House for the past two years and I am looking forward to the opportunity to continue to serve the district where not only I was born and raised but my parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents.

When people ask me what I thought of my first term in office I usually reply, it's definitely not what they taught me in American Civics, I think they need to re-write the high school text books. Although I say that jokingly, upon reflection I truly think that is the core problem within our state. The process is not working as it was meant to. We don't need to continue down the path of politics as usual. We don't need more politicians; we need neighbors who genuinely care about their community. That investment in our community is what is going to make the difference. I love when I go to door to door and people say "Hi Lauren, nice to see you again." Or I remember when a little boy answered the door and said "Hey! I know you, you came and jump roped at my school, you've got some skills. Or at the market a grandmother came up to me and said, "Aren't you the Peterson girl? I love your family's farm." This commitment to my community is reflected in my effectiveness as a legislator.

As a public school graduate, University of Hawaii Athlete and Alumna, newlywed, and 4th generation farmer here in Hawaii, I personally understand the challenges facing our state—the rising cost of living, problems in our education system, addressing our lack of food self sustainability, and a restrictive business climate to name a few. While these are daunting challenges they are not insurmountable. We need to continue the momentum of making a difference by allowing not career politicians but your neighbors to represent you in the legislature.

My father is from Waialua, my grandfather worked at the sugar mill, and my mother's family has been in Wahiawa working on our family farm, Petersons' Upland Farm for the past 104 years. Working with my family on our farm and experiencing first-hand the issues that farmers face everyday has engrained in me a personal connection with the issues surrounding Hawaii's agriculture. In the legislature I have had the unique opportunity to be a voice for the agricultural community encouraging our state to expand local production, promote sustainability, and enhance opportunities for small business growth not just in our district but for all of Hawai'i.

As a product of the public school system, I fully understand the concerns surrounding Hawaii's public education and I have truly appreciated my time serving on the Education committee in the legislature. Being able to apply my personal experience from attending the University of Hawai'i at Manoa to my service on the Higher Education committee was also a great privilege.

As a newlywed, I have been able to experience first hand how the rising cost living affects all of us. My husband and I often talk about our future and how we are going to provide for our children one day. I understand how hard it is for families to make ends meet in this difficult economy. Our families need support and we cannot afford to continue raising our cost of living. We need to stimulate our economy by not raising the General Excise Tax and create more local jobs for local people. We need a common sense approach.

In my time at the legislature I have learned that Representative is not my name or even my title; it is my job description. It is my job to listen to those that I represent. We need to stand together. Leadership is not waiting your turn and standing on the side till someone says now is your time to step up. Leadership is when you feel a sense of urgency, have a unique voice and perspective that you know can change our communities, our state and our country. With your support and working together I know that we can make that change.

Hawaiian Electric Introduces Maka, The Super Energy Saver

New energy guide for children offers fun activities to stop energy waste in the home

To help customers better manage electricity use, Hawaiian Electric has debuted Maka, The Super Energy Saver, a free energy guide featuring a likeable cartoon owl who helps children and their parents uncover and stop hidden energy waste in the home. The colorful, interactive booklet is designed for children ages 4-10 years, and includes activities, games and stickers to engage children in conserving energy and protecting the environment.

"Maka means 'eyes' or 'sight' in Hawaiian language so it's no coincidence that our Maka has sharp eyes," smiled Kaiulani de Silva, Hawaiian Electric director of education and consumer affairs. "Also, owls are symbolic of wisdom, knowledge and enlightenment. Throughout the guide, Maka shares his energy tips to help young readers and their families make wise energy choices."

The handy, 12-page activity guide highlights common "energy villains" – namely electronics, appliances and fixtures – that gobble up large amounts of energy in the home. Maka invites kids to work with their parents and spot these energy bandits and thieves while he shares eye-opening facts and tips. Once found, the energy villains are defeated using one of the tools – a compact fluorescent lamp bulb, a thermometer, a kill-a-watt energy meter, and a wrench – from Maka's special energy tool belt.

Children who successfully find and defeat household energy villains can become a Super Energy Saver. To enter the drawing for a Super Energy Saver Kit and Kill-A-Watt energy meter, children must complete the activity map, sign the energy pledge at the back of the booklet, and mail both in to Hawaiian Electric's Education & Consumer Affairs Department. Oahu residents ages 17 years and under are eligible to win, and winners will be announced quarterly. All other official contest rules apply and can be found on the back of the guide.

For a copy of Maka, The Super Energy Saver, pick one up at Hawaiian Electric's Customer Service locations at 1001 Bishop Street, American Savings Bank Tower Lobby or 820 Ward Avenue; download the guide from hawaiianelectric.com; or call 543-7511 to have a copy mailed.

Ban On Plastic Bags To Take Effect Next Summer

In the early months of 2012, I introduced Bill 10 which was heard by the City Council on Feb 15th and referred to the Committee on Public Works and Sustainability for review. At the time, I was optimistic that we could find common ground on the universal problem of plastic bags. Honolulu was the only county in the State that had no regulation on bags distributed to retail and wholesale customers to carry merchandise from the checkout. Bill 10 was drafted to impose a ban on all non-recyclable paper and non-biodegradable plastic bags.

The US Environmental Protection Agency reported that plastics made up more than 12% of the country's municipal solid waste stream, a dramatic increase from the 1% reported in 1960. The manufacture of non-biodegradable plastic bags diverts millions of barrels of crude oil from other uses, increasing the cost of those uses of the fuel.

Testimony in support of the ban was matched by opposition. Environmental groups generally supported the ban and retailers did not. Claiming that recyclable paper bags are up to ten times more expensive than plastic, the Retail Merchants of Hawaii testified that for every truck that delivers plastic bags, seven trucks are needed to deliver the same number of paper bags. Inherently more expensive to manufacture and ship to Hawaii, the higher cost of paper bags would surely be passed on to the consumers. They called for a 10-cent fee on single-use bags that would both cover the cost of the bag and discourage its use by the public.

Although I believe we should continue to promote reuseable bags as the ultimate solution to the problem, I did not support a fee as a way to regulate single use bags. Banning all non-recyclable paper bags and non-biodegradable plastic bags, Bill 10 was passed by the City Council in April of 2012 with an effective date of July 1, 2015. The time between was meant to give the merchants time to adjust to the ban by using up remaining supplies of non-conforming paper or plastic bags before the law took effect.

The Department of Environmental Services was charged with establishing the implementation of Bill 10, now Ordinance 12-8. But unable to identify a clear and reliable industry standard to meet the definition of "biodegradable" defined in the law, the Department supported a total ban on all plastic bags as proposed in Bill 38, introduced last April. Unlike the confusion over the standards for bio-degradable bags, compostable bags must meet the clear standards of ASTM International, the nonprofit formerly known as the American Society for Testing and Materials. I introduced an amendment to the bill to allow for the use of compostable bags. Plastic bags will still be allowed for loose items such as fruits, vegetables, nuts, coffee, candy, or small hardware items, and for frozen foods, meat or fish, flowers or plants, medications, newspaper, laundry and pet items. Download our App for election coverage on the go »

Bill 38 was signed into law on September 24th and bags meeting the definition of "compostable" will still be allowed, as will all non-plastic bags, including paper and cloth. Although environmental groups would have preferred banning compostable bags, they called the ban on biodegradables "a step in the right direction." I hope that we will one day depend totally on environmentally responsible reuseable bags to carry home our groceries.

I post this with a heavy heart as I say aloha to a man whom I hold a love and respect for much as I do my own father (rest his soul).

My uncle, Andres "Andy" Manalo. The man with unforgettable smile who always offered you something...and asked nothing in return. There were times growing up when our Paalakai house had the electricity or water was shut off. Many of those nights, my brothers and I spent with Uncle Andy and Aunty Pat at their house where the door was always open. If I typed everything I remember we would be here all day. For my north shore folks who didnt know him, he was the smiling man with the round belly who worked at Cals Haleiwa Chevron in the early mornings and spent the latter part of the day at his "Rainbow Bridge Gift Shop" next door. It's hard for me to picture him without the gas station uniform or without my Aunty Pat by his side.

I spent most of yesterday in the hospital with him as aunty got the house ready for him to come home where he could be at peace. I held his strong hands, which felt like they could still put a hurtin' on you if you needed it. And though he couldn't respond, I thanked him for everything he has done and taught me. I'm glad that I was able to spend that short time with him.

Why Agriculture is Important

By Susan Matsushima

Recently, many farmers feel that they and agriculture are under attack with all the legislative initiatives at the County level. Some are too young to remember 9-11 in 2001. Hawaii's imports stopped for 15 days and we were all saying we must support local agriculture. Thirteen years later, it seems people have forgotten why agriculture is important to all of us in Hawaii.

The tourists that visit our Hawaii come to see the beauty of our Islands, smell and wear our beautiful flowers, admire the verdant green valleys and fields of green, and treasure our golf courses each day. They love the exotic foods grown in our state and love the grass-fed beef and island grown fish that have been well prepared by our Chefs here. Hawaii is our special place but also very special to so many who return here each year to enjoy being a part of our rich culture.

Hawaii's agriculture has been hit hard by many that are NOT in our business. They grumble about what crops are being grown, how they are being cared for, and about the science that they are not knowledgeable about. All farmers...those in ranching, in feed production, in food production, in flower production, in fruit production, in grass production, in corn production, in fish production have a place in Hawaii's agriculture. We work together and synergistically make Hawaii a better place to live in.

Very few people are aware that although the number of Hawaii farmers has increased from 6,500 five years ago to 7,500 last year, our imports to Hawaii have risen from 85% to 90%. People ask why? Most of the new farmers have small farms and are mainly subsistence farmers. Only 1% of our large farms produce 65% of the produce for our state. Thus, if the non-agricultural people continue to bash Hawaii's farmers, the 1% will leave production agriculture resulting in our imports being nearly 99%.

Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 165 is the Hawaii Right to Farm Act which says that farmers have the right to farm conventional, organic, or bio-tech farming. However, the armchair farmers, who do not have the technical background, continue to bash farming and family farmers. We farmers are busy on our farms and don't have time to be on our computers and telephone to answer these unfair comments.

Please look at the word sustainability. This is defined by the three E pillars: environment, social equity and economic demand. Many of those outside of farming are confusing it with organic. We must support all farmers that want to make agriculture their BUSINESS. Farmers and ranchers have always been and will always be the best stewards of our land and our environment. Please help guarantee ALL FARMERS THE RIGHT TO FARM.

Hawaii Agricultural Protection Act

HAWAII REVISED STATUTES • DIVISION 1. GOVERNMENT
TITLE 11. AGRICULTURE AND ANIMALS • CHAPTER 165. HAWAII RIGHT TO FARM ACT

§ 165-1 Findings and purpose.

The legislature finds that when nonagricultural land uses extend into agricultural areas, farming operations often become the subject of nuisance lawsuits that may result in the premature removal of lands from agricultural use and may discourage future investments in agriculture. The legislature also finds that under the Hawaii State Planning Act, it is a declared policy of this State to "foster attitudes and activities conducive to maintaining agriculture as a major sector of Hawaii's economy." Accordingly, it is the purpose of this chapter to reduce the loss to the State of its agricultural resources by limiting the circumstances under which farming operations may be deemed to be a nuisance.

§ 165-2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires: "Farming operation" means a commercial agricultural, silvicultural, or aquacultural facility or pursuit conducted, in whole or in part, including the care and production of livestock and livestock products, poultry and poultry products, apiary products, and plant and animal production for nonfood uses; the planting, cultivating, harvesting, and processing of crops; and the farming or ranching of any plant or animal species in a controlled salt, brackish, or freshwater environment. "Farming operation" also includes but shall not be limited to:

- (1) Marketed produce at roadside stands or farm markets;
- (2) Noises, odors, dust, and fumes emanating from a commercial agricultural or an aquacultural facility or pursuit:
- (3) Operation of machinery and irrigation pumps;
- (4) Ground and aerial seeding and spraying;
- (5) The application of chemical fertilizers, conditioners, insecticides, pesticides, and herbicides; and
- (6) The employment and use of labor.

A farming operation that conducts processing operations or salt, brackish, or freshwater aquaculture operations on land that is zoned for industrial, commercial, or other nonagricultural use shall not, by reason of that zoning, fall beyond the scope of this definition; provided that those processing operations form an integral part of operations that otherwise meet the requirements of this definition. "Nuisance" means any interference with reasonable use and enjoyment of land, including but not limited to smoke, odors, dust, noise, or vibration; provided that nothing in this chapter shall in any way restrict or impede the authority of the State to protect the public health, safety, and welfare. "Nuisance" as used in this chapter, includes all claims that meet the requirements of this definition regardless of whether a complainant designates such claims as brought in nuisance, negligence, trespass, or any other area of law or equity; provided that nuisance as used in this chapter does not include an alleged nuisance that involves water pollution or flooding.

§ 165-3 Declaration of public purpose.

The preservation and promotion of farming is declared to be in the public purpose and deserving of public support.

§ 165-4 Right to farm.

No court, official, public servant, or public employee shall declare any farming operation a nuisance for any reason if the farming operation has been conducted in a manner consistent with generally accepted agricultural and management practices. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that a farming operation does not constitute a nuisance.

§ 165-5 Frivolous lawsuits.

Any nuisance action, found to be frivolous by the court, in which a farming operation is alleged to be a nuisance as defined in section 165-2, shall be governed by section 607-14.5.

§ 165-6 Liberal construction.

This chapter is remedial in nature and shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes. Enacted in 1982, amended in 2001.

BANZAI NORTH SHORE WIRELESS

It will be an amazing experience for Bethany Hamilton and new husband Adam Dirks who are competing in the CBS TV show "Amazing Race" which premiered in September. Adam Dirks was a substitute teacher and youth Minister and now refers to himself as a full time husband and supporter of Bethany. The young couple is taking on ten more teams in a chance of a lifetime. The show pits the teams against each other in a travel excursion around the world throwing at them all kinds of challenges as they go from country to country. Nothing Bethany is not used to for sure. Their bios for the show give insight to their personalities and normal challenges of being married. The things that bug you about the other person? Adam said "Bethany eats with her mouth open sometimes," that should not effect their chances of winning the million dollars! The teams are from all walks of life, including a couple with perfect pearly whites, when they throw the sparkle filter on, you gotta laugh. The first team to fail, the Barbie Doll Realtor sisters from Miami. Oh, I hated to see the self proclaimed barbie dolls go, not! Catch the show on fridays right before Hawaii 5-0. Five-0 seems to have stepped up their surf shots in the program and the first story line had insane kind of crazy action a scenes. Nice, entertaining! Don't want to spoil it too much!

Surftech's Candice Appleby made it a clean sweep, winning the sprint and distance races at last weekend's Stand Up World Series event in Huntington Beach, CA. With a 3rd place in the SUP surf competition and 1st in the race series, Candice earned herself the Stand Up World Tour Huntington Beach Grand Slam title on her 12'6" Signature Bark race board! Next up for the SUP World Tour is Battle of the Paddle.

"I'm really looking forward to seeing what Salt Creek serves up for the BOP," Appleby said. "I love racing in the waves and I've been training hard and feeling good, so it should be a lot of fun. I'm going to miss the "M" shaped course that puts us in and out of the surf several times, but I have a feeling that the dumping barrels of Salt Creek will make up for it. I've got great equipment and a new mind set on competing, so it should make for a great race!" Surf Tech has a try before you buy program so if you see them at any events jut ask or call them in Honolulu, they are on Queen Street. Surf n Sea in Haleiwa also carries Surf Tech boards so you can check some boards out there.

Please email banzaib@hawaii.rr.com with more water sports info! Aloha!

Dear Editor,

During a recent visit back to the North Shore, I was reminded of an ugly side of N. Shore life. I'm talking about our treatment of 'casual' Laborers, all those people who provide essential services such as tree-cutting, painting, lawncare/landscaping, home renovations, etc. First thing, the work these people do is anything but 'casual.' It involves expertise and lots of sweat and takes a toll on the body. Many of us, who are fortunate to be able to support ourselves and our families through other types of work, seem unaware of how difficult this type of work is.

I know of many instances in which an estimate is sought and negotiated, the Laborer plans for the job by getting materials/supplies and turning down other work in order to devote the time to the agreed-upon job, but then sometime in the middle of the job, the property owner wants to change the terms. Most often, it is to pay less. So the Laborer is faced with the impossible decision of accepting less in order to keep the job; some owners seem to take pride in lowballing Laborers. Sometimes, it is to say, "We changed our mind." So the Laborer is stuck with no work (and no income), after having turned down other jobs. I have even heard of instances where the Laborer had to seek out the owner to be paid for work completed, and the (utterly classless) owner refused to pay, threatened to report the Laborer (who in fact is a U.S. citizen but apparently did not LOOK like one) to Immigration, and became physically aggressive.

Are property owners that oblivious to reality? Hello!! Several questions: Would you tolerate this type of treatment from your employer? Do you realize the physical toll this type of work takes? Do you realize that casual Laborers don't get paid if they don't work? Have you ever figured out what it would cost you to hire a company (usually based in town) to come out and do the job?

Yes, it can be difficult to find reliable and skilled labor, but it seems N. Shore property owners don't realize how good they have it. Certainly, renters and families that are stacked up in houses see owners as fortunate. My reaction when I hear stories like this is to encourage the Laborer to insist on partial payment up front, insist on payment in cash at the end of each day, walk away as soon as someone tries to change the terms, spread the word when they are dealt with poorly so that these owners will be boycotted, take the owner to Small Claims Court. But, most Laborers don't feel empowered to take any of these measures, for a variety of reasons. What does it say about us when we take advantage of that?

Anyone who is paying the slightest bit of attention should notice the inequities on the N. Shore. The quality of life and the Aloha spirit of the N. Shore suffer when the Haves act like the stereotypical old-time plantation owners. (Yes, I know there are plenty of owners who don't deserve the bad rap).

Hawaii's Largest Halloween Attraction Opens at Dole Plantation This October 10

For the second straight year, Dole Plantation transforms from family-friendly to ultra-spooky starting Oct. 10 with Nightmare at Dole Plantation 2, Hawaii's largest haunted attraction.

Nightmares Live Haunted Attraction will once again partner with Dole Plantation to feature four frightening exclusives:

- Warehouse 31: Gretchen's Revenge, a classic haunted house that lets guests relive one woman's chilling tale
- Haunted Train Tales from Beyond the Grave, a fright-filled train ride accompanied by hair-raising ghost stories by Lopaka Kapanui
- Coulrophobia, a labyrinth where killer clowns lurk behind every corner and
- Trail of Terror, a dark and frightening maze that may have no escape.

Fright nights are as follows:

- Friday, Oct. 10 through Sunday, Oct. 12
- Friday, Oct. 17 through Sunday, Oct. 19
- Friday, Oct. 24 through Sunday, Oct. 26
- Friday, Oct. 31

Hours are 7 to 11 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays; 7 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

Families are strongly warned that Nightmare at Dole Plantation 2 is likely too intense for children. Children under 13 must be accompanied by an adult.

Discounted, Pre-Sale Ticket Sales

Individual pre-sale tickets for each of the mazes or the haunted house are $11 per attraction. Pre-sale tickets for the train are $8 each.

Walk-up, On-site Ticket Sales

General admission, same-day tickets are $13 per attraction for each of the mazes or the haunted house. Same-day tickets for the train are $10 each.

For more information about the Halloween events, visit dole-plantation.com.

Aloha! We are the Bank of Hawaii Haleiwa Branch Staff and we would like to introduce ourselves. Our team is made up of a Branch Manager, Service Supervisor, Consumer Banking Representative, 2 Full-Time Tellers and 2 Part-Time Tellers. Our branch manager, Rylan Yoshino, has been with the Bank of Hawaii for 9 years and joined the Haleiwa team in March of 2013. Laura Talaroc, our Service Supervisor, has been with Bank of Hawaii for 6 years and was recently promoted to her current position in October of 2013. Our Consumer Banking Representative, Jessica Weaver, has been with the Bank for 9 years also and joined the team in April of 2013. Our Teller team – Karl, Tiana, James, and Cindy round out the bunch. Karl has been with Bank of Hawaii for 4 years and was previously with our Wahiawa Branch. Tiana has rejoined the Bank of Hawaii Ohana as of January this year. Another returning employee James came back to us in July of 2013 – you may also see James on the weekend at Kua Aina Haleiwa where he also works part-time. Our newest member, Cindy, joined the team in April of this year. We all enjoy being a part of and servicing the North Shore community. Our goal is to provide exceptional customer service and help as many customers as possible meet their current and future financial needs. Come in and see us during our normal operating hours: Monday – Thursday 8:30 am – 4:00 pm and on Fridays 8:30 am – 6:00 pm and let us see if we can help you too.
