Kamehameha Preschool Remains Open

Story by: Blake McElheny

At its meeting on May 27, 2014 the North Shore Neighborhood Board was pleased to hear the announcement from Kalani Fronda of Kamehameha Schools that the beloved Hale'iwa Preschool will remain open.

Kamehameha Schools had unexpectedly announced the surprise closure of the Preschool on March 10. However, Kamehameha Schools was able to change their decision based on a thorough reconsideration of the circumstances by their Chief Executive Officer, Livingston Wong. In addition, a Project Team led by Kalani Fronda successfully developed a joint action plan with the Preschool landlord, the Hale'iwa Jodo Mission, to help keep the Preschool open. Undoubtedly, the reconsideration was also based on the strong voices of support for the Preschool by a broad range of community and early education advocates including City Council Chair Ernie Martin and Senator Clayton Hee.

"The Trip of a Lifetime"

(Author Unknown)

One day, the father of a very wealthy family took his son on a trip to the country with the express purpose of showing him how poor people live. They spent a couple of days and nights on the farm of what would be considered a very poor family.

On their return from their trip, the father asked his son, 'How was the trip?' 'It was great, Dad.'

'Did you see how poor people live?' the father asked.

'Oh yeah,' said the son.

'So, tell me, what did you learn from the trip?' asked the father.

The son answered: 'I saw that we have one dog and they had four. We have a pool that reaches to the middle of our garden and they have a creek that has no end. We have imported lanterns in our garden and they have the stars at night. Our patio reaches to the front yard and they have the whole horizon. We have a small piece of land to live on and they have fields that go beyond our sight. We have servants who serve us, but they serve others. We buy our food, but they grow theirs. We have walls around our property to protect us, they have friends to protect them.'

The boy's father was speechless.

Then his son added, 'Thanks Dad for showing me how poor we are.'

Isn't perspective a wonderful thing? Makes you wonder what would happen if we all gave thanks for everything we have, instead of worrying about what we don't have.

Appreciate every single thing you have, especially your friends!

Coming this summer: Mahi'ai Match-Up 2015 Agricultural Business Plan Contest

Kamehameha Schools and Ke Ali'i Pauahi Foundation (Pauahi Foundation) – the nonprofit foundation of Kamehameha Schools – are teaming up once again to promote and celebrate Hawaii's agricultural industry through their second Mahi'ai Match-Up agricultural business plan contest.

Mahi'ai Match-Up 2015 is being hosted ultimately to 1) help Kamehameha Schools find farmers to increase food production for the local market, and 2) grow awareness for the Pauahi Foundation's efforts in providing agricultural grants and post-high scholarships.

"This is truly an effort to celebrate and promote agriculture in Hawai'i. We strongly believe that by building excitement and a strong support network around agriculture and agriculture education we will see multiple benefits for our community and for our state," said Keawe Liu, executive director of Ke Ali'i Pauahi Foundation.

Translated as farmer match-up, the eight-month contest was started in 2013 to support Hawaii's agricultural industry. After months of working with applicants – which includes providing contestants with training in business plan preparation and presentation skills – Kamehameha Schools and the Pauahi Foundation announced three winners at the contest's culminating event, the Mahi'ai Match-Up Gala, held on February 22, 2014.

Last year's first place winner, a North Shore operation called Holoholo General Store, received $25,000 in business seed monies from the Pauahi Foundation and five years of waived rent from Kamehameha Schools to expand its business in Hale'iwa.

"With this opportunity that's been provided to us by Kamehameha and the Pauahi Foundation, it really allows us to be innovative in thinking of other things that we can do instead of being so set back by the initial investment in just getting going on a farm," said Holoholo General Store co-owner, Jill Nordby, via interview.

Farmers with innovative ideas and interested in farming and food production for Hawai'i are encouraged to apply for Mahi'ai Match-Up 2015 on July 1, 2014. The deadline to apply is August 1, 2014.

Did you know that:

- 1) Psalm 118 is the middle chapter of the entire bible?
- 2) Psalm 117, before Psalm 118 is the shortest chapter in the bible?
- 3) Psalm 119, after Psalm 118 is the longest chapter in the bible?
- 4) The Bible has 594 chapters before Psalm 118 and 594 chapters after Psalm 118?
- 5) If you add up all the chapters except Psalm 118, you get a total of 1188 chapters.
- 6) 1188 or Psalm 118 verse 8 is the middle verse of the entire bible?

Should the central verse not have an important message?

"It is better to take refuge in the Lord than to trust in man." —Psalm 118:8

SAFETY ALERT: HURRICANE SEASON

Hurricane season begins in June.

For your safety and the safety of your family, prepare for emergency conditions before they occur:

- Gather emergency supplies, such as a battery-powered radio, flashlights, lanterns, and batteries.
- Store enough water, non-perishable food, and medicine for your family members and pets to last seven days.
- Become familiar with the location of emergency shelters in your area. Refer to the Hawai'i State Civil Defense list of hurricane shelters online at www.scd.hawaii.gov, or call 733-4300.
- Make plans to go to a safe location where electricity will be available if someone in your home depends on an electrically powered life support system and you don't have a backup generator.

For more safety tips, refer to Hawaiian Electric's Handbook for Emergency Preparedness online at www.hawaiianelectric.com, or call 543-7511.

Several months ago in response to community concerns about Ali'i Beach Park, some community members walked me through the park to show me some of their concerns, which included significant piles of trash, illegal tents, needles and other drug paraphernalia hazardous to the ocean and beachgoers. On Memorial Day, my family and I spent the afternoon at Ali'i Beach Park with friends. Between the barbeques and the water, it was evident that the concerns those community members had shared with me months ago are still prevalent, though I know many in the community, including our North Shore Neighborhood Board, are making efforts to improve monitoring and oversight of the park. With those that we spoke to at the park, the neighborhood board's efforts have had some positive effects as there seems to be fewer individuals illegally camping at the park and staying overnight. However, community members still were very concerned about drug use, continued presence of illegal camping in the park overnight and the severe damage caused to the public restroom facilities at the Park.

Another concern that was relayed to me was the closure of the John K. Kalili Surf Center, which in the past was frequently used as a community central gathering place for youth and kupuna for activities. Community members are disappointed that nothing has been done to address the reasons why the building has been closed and to take the needed steps to reopen a place that facilitated such a positive influence for all who utilized it.

My Memorial Day visit to Ali'i Beach Park turned into a 5-hour education on the history of the park, the challenges that youth face in Hale'iwa and on the North Shore and what needs to be done in order to turn some things around in the park. Most of the education came from sitting and talking story with Uncle Hawaiian and Derek. It was really great to hear of all the things that used to happen at the park, what it was like before the state and the city took it over and the potential they believe the park has to be a force for good. It was also really sad to hear the list of youth that Uncle Hawaiian and Derek knew from back in the day whose lives have been destroyed by drugs and broken homes. They shared about the growing struggles elderly and plantation era families have in holding onto their homes as the pressures to sell grows and as property taxes and the costs of living continue to rise.

This kind of talk story time is incredibly helpful to community leaders and I'm thankful to anyone who is willing to meet with me and talk story about what is going on in the community, whether it is a challenge we face, an obstacle we have overcome or an achievement we have reached. Please share your stories with me by emailing our office at repfale@capitol.hawaii.gov or calling us at 586-6380. As for Ali'i Beach Park, I look forward to learning more about the issues at Ali'i Beach Park and finding some solutions to these problems so families can continue to enjoy this place for many more Memorial Day weekends.

Get Ready for Hurricane Season Starting in June

By North Shore Disaster Preparedness Committee

When the weatherman tells you to take cover because a hurricane is on the way, the last thing you want to do is worry about whether you are prepared. A little effort now—before catastrophe strikes—can yield big savings (and peace of mind) in the future. Remember that the last hurricane, Iniki, in 1992 was the worst ever experienced in Hawaii. It was a Category 4 storm with sustained winds of 131-155 mph, killed six people, injured more than 100 and caused an estimated $1.8 billion in damage. Kauai was hit the worst and had 14,350 homes damaged or destroyed.

Here are six tips that can help you plan ahead so you never have to face a storm unprepared:

1. Do a Home Inventory: Doing a home inventory can save you time and make filing a claim easier, ensuring you don't forget anything. Document the contents of your home with a video camera or other home inventory tool. Keep receipts for valuable items and consider separate coverage for these things.

2. Protect your property by installing the following items in your home:

- Hurricane shutters or keep ¾ inch outdoor plywood boards for each window. If using boards, be sure to install anchors and pre-drill holes so you can put them up quickly.

- Head and foot bolts on doors for extra protection.

- Hurricane straps or clips to help hold the roof to the walls of your home.

- A safe room that can withstand high winds and flying debris (no windows). For more information about sheltering in place: <http://www.honolulu.gov/demevacuate/hurricaneinfo.html>

Also, be sure to keep up with your landscaping; diseased and damaged tree limbs can become serious hazards in high-speed storm winds.

3. Stock your emergency supply kit with basic survival items. You'll want to have a 3-day supply of water and ready-to-eat, non-perishable food for every family member and pet. Items to include in your supply kit:

- One gallon of water per person per day for at least three days, for drinking and sanitation

- Food, at least a three-day supply of non-perishable food

- Manual can opener
- Essential medicines including eyeglasses and contact lenses

- Personal hygiene items such as toilet paper, toothbrush and toothpaste

- Change of clothing

- Paper towels, hand sanitizer, and eating utensils

- First-aid kit

- Battery-powered flashlight and radio with extra batteries

- Blankets, pillows and sleeping bags

- Mosquito repellent and citronella candles

- 2 coolers—one for food, one for ice

- Plastic tarp for roof/window repairs and tools
- Special items for infant, elderly or disabled family members

4. Develop an evacuation plan. Decide if you will shelter in place or go to a hurricane shelter.

- There are two shelters: Waiialua High and Intermediate Shelter, which is a pet friendly shelter, and Kahuku High and Intermediate School, which is not pet friendly. There are not enough shelter spaces, so as many of us as possible should shelter in place if we have a safe room.

- You must bring your whole supply kit with you to the shelter. The shelter will NOT provide anything except the shelter space.

- Make arrangements now with friends or family members for transportation, if needed, and don't forget about the pets! Put them in crates or carriers if going to the shelter.

- You want to make sure the whole family is covered, so identify an out-of-state contact that everyone will call if separated and establish an inland meeting location.

- Gather important papers to take with you:

- Driver's license or personal ID

- Social security card(s)

- Proof of residence (deed, lease or utility bills)

- Insurance policies (home, auto, flood, wind)

- Birth and marriage certificates

- Stocks, bonds and other negotiable certificates

- Wills, deeds, and copies of recent tax returns

- Personal checkbook and cash (Banks and ATM's may be down)

5. Check your insurance coverage to make sure it reflects the current state of your home. Consider adding flood insurance and coverage for additional living expenses in case your home is uninhabitable after a storm.

6. Don't take silly risks like running back into a home that's been destroyed or refuse to evacuate when you've been ordered to, just to salvage material possessions. Things can be replaced, but people cannot.

Country Talk Story with Choon James

Which community needs a new fire station?

Many have asked about what's happening with the Mayor's pet $13 Million firehouse proposal in Hauula. Please google "Eminent Domain Abuse Hawaii" for more info. We're still in court.

It's ironic that Caldwell insists the city has no money. He's intensely focused on squeezing every penny out of the taxpayers. He tried to raise gasoline tax. He's increasing fees on building plan reviews. He wanted to charge a $10 monthly fee for weekly garbage pickup. He has raised vehicles registration fees and camping fees. He says the city has no money for all the services that citizens want.

However, the Mayor displays no systemic fiscal prudence. He contradicts himself. Although he keeps crying the city has no money, he has millions of dollars for his pet projects.

An average fire station costs about $5M to build. But it will cost about $13M to relocate the existing Hauula firehouse for less than two minutes away. He wants a Neiman Marcus firehouse like the Ewa Beach station for rural Hauula.

Interestingly, a big question arises about fire safety protection in Ko'olauloa.

"As of the 2010 Census, the CDP population for KA'A'AWA was 1,379. HAUULA was 4,148. KAHUKU was 2,614. LAIE was 6,138."

All the above communities have a fire station except Laie. Laie has never had a fire station.

These neighboring communities are connected solely, in a row, by the only arterial 2-lane Kamehameha Highway along the coast. It's a known fact that communities can be easily cut off from each other. All that is needed is a fallen electric pole or a car accident or a fallen tree on the arterial Kam Hwy.

Based on these basic facts, it's extremely irrational not to have a fire station in Laie.

Laie hosts a private university of about 3,000 students and the Polynesian Cultural Center with its thousands of daily tourists. BYU-H has since built three new student dormitories; the Marriott Hotel has started construction; and there are new retail shops expansion at PCC.

Why did the Laie Community Association shove the relocation project down the throats of opposing Hauula residents? Shouldn't LCA be advocating for Laie?

Laie pays property taxes like any other. It deserves equal fire protection. Hawaii Reserves Inc. owns many parcels in Laie that would be ideal for this public safety need.

All in all, Mayor Kirk Caldwell would serve all taxpayers well if he implements a 'big picture' approach in his decision-making. He needs to set his fiscal priorities in order of need, and not wants.

WHISTLEBLOWERS: The US of A Wants You!

My North Shore friends and neighbors: Native Hawaiians have been targeted for elimination from the North Shore by a conspiracy made up of the property owners who are guilty of hate crimes. You cannot discriminate against natives – that is illegal in US law even if it seems OK in local law: US law rules when it comes to native land use.

We have to fix our own land use problems involving kupuna and landless natives before we permit newcomers to rule over our land use to their own selfish benefit. Unfulfilled prior promises to earlier unborn generations of natives that are still unmet – these have to be met first and foremost. The native Hawaiian is who saves our lands as the promise unmet is the promise of tomorrow too.

Whistle Blowers! Help prosecute racist haters, political insiders and illegal drug trade profiteers: come forward with information. Support the Constitution and in so doing, put in their place violators who are corrupting Freedom, Liberty and Justice, upheld by Constitutional Separation of Powers.

Turtle Bay Resort; Waimea Valley and Beach Park; Pupukea Paumalu; Rocky Point; Pupukea Road; Kahana Valley, and more – all these properties can be legally saved by native Hawaiians (at no expense to the public) but it is bias against native Hawaiians living next door to you on the North Shore that pushes you to support those who also ignore this reality.

Government cannot finance or make possible this kind of illegal discrimination, which is obvious once you see past the lies. President Obama, a native son too, is not on the side of those who damage Native Americans. His administration has its priorities in the right order.

BANZAI NORTH SHORE WIRELESS

The Surf n Sea Hale'iwa SUP Race presented by O'Neill kicked off the summer race season on the North Shore. There was fun for all with the main course race being about 4 miles going from behind the historic Surf n Sea building outside of Hale'iwa Harbor then inside of Pua'ena Point where things get shallow and tricky.

That race qualified 15 racers for the Kona Brewery SUP Derby for a cash purse of $2,600, not bad! The derby is a fast sprint around flags and all about the tight turns. Haleiwa's Mo Freitas won both races. The derby just by a hair after Kody Kerbox mistakenly thought it was just one time around the flag. That race is exciting as it goes along the shoreline and the screaming level is intense. In the Women's division it was Honolulu's Rachel Brunsch taking top honors. Brunsch has won two years in a row. Awesome paddle from her as she was tenth overall and just a little over 3 minutes behind Freitas. The Surf News Network Keiki Relay was killer for sure as team "Killer Jellyfish" took top honors. Congrats to all the contestants and sponsors including Surf Tech Hawaii, O'Neill, Da Kine, Sanuk, Sun Bum, Turtle Bay Resort, LuLus, Go Pro, Keanon, Kona Brewery, Surf News Network and more. Waialua is growing and one of the best shops to open up is Tasi Boutique. Tasi Boutique is celebrating their one year anniversary June 21st, congratulations! The quaint store has a great selection of fashionable clothing and wonderful ocean inspired jewelry and accessories. Boutique owner Olivia Turner says she gets new shipments in weekly and does jewelry classes twice a month. The name Tasi means "the ocean" in the Chamorro language (from the island of Guam where Turner was raised. She has been creating Ocean inspired products for years and she has a great artistic eye for selecting things for the shop. Follow her on facebook and instagram.

There is a big ASP 6 star qualifying event in San Jose Del Cabo, Cabo San Lucas area, Mexico. Not so far of a destination for our Hawaii competitors and a great chance to get in and get points. The surf spot Zippers is the venue and Cabo is no small town any more. It is a fast right point break that can get really good south swells. Besides the ASP WCT surfers, Ezekiel Lau is our top seed in the event. Another surfer that is making a mark is Kiron Jabour. Jabour you may remember won a big event in Puerto Escondido in pretty heavy tubing waves a while back and sits around 37th on tour right now. Jabour has been living in Hale'iwa since he was young but was born in Brazil so has a big following around the globe. This will be a big event for him and all our Hawaii surfers. There will also be the first ever Women's event there. Bailey Nage is the only North Shore surfer that made the entrant list. A small jab here... There are 140 males ($135,000) and 46 females ($35,000) on the lists, it should be equal... at least! We want to grow Womens surfing! Enough said. Aloha! Keep our North Shore pristine!

2014 North Shore Hanapa'a Jackpot Tournament Queen

18 year old Uluwehi Irene Pang, although born in Glendale, AZ, comes with deep North Shore roots.

Daughter, and eldest child to Noah & Mahealani (Souza) Pang, Ulu is also big sister to sisters Kehi & Laola and brother Noah Jr.

Ulu's North Shore roots come from a long line of Souza's and Almeida's. Ulu's Grandpa, the late Gary Souza, was a well known fisherman, born & raised on the shores of Hale'iwa and Waialua. Also, great Tutu, the late Clara Almeida holds a special place in her heart.

Ulu is a graduate of Waialua High School's Class of 2014. Graduating this past May, Ulu looks forward to a promising career in the Travel Industry.

While focused on the traveling world, Ulu enjoys her time spent with her family and friends, especially at the countless gatherings that seem to inundate her schedule. Ulu hold her family in high regard and notes that her family is who she pulls her strengths from and can always rely on.

Currently working as a Sales Associate at North Shore Boardriders in Hale'iwa, Ulu has had the opportunity to meet people from all corners of the world, which sparked her interest in travel.

As this year North Shore Hanapaa Queen, Ulu hopes to bring a spicy vibe to the role of being queen with her upbeat, outgoing and pleasant personality. Ulu is sure to bring a glow upon the tournament.

If you happen to run into Ulu around town feel free to extend big CONGRATULATIONS to our 2014 North Shore Hanapaa Queen...ULU PANG!!!
