Repair Work on Kamehameha Hwy

Certain parts of Oahu's Kamehameha Highway are nearly a hundred years old. For the most part in this region, Kamehameha Highway is still a 2-lane road. Kamehameha Highway is the only arterial road that connects the coastal communities of Kahalu'u, Waiahole-Waikane, Ka'a'awa, Punalu'u, Hau'ula, Lai'e, Kahuku, Kawela, Sunset and Hale'iwa.

Parts of the makai (ocean) side was broken off by ocean erosion and the highway is also prone to flooding where waves wash onto the road or streams overflow. Through the decades, concerned residents have called on the city and state to be cognizant about the lack of needed infrastructure in this side of Oahu to support massive developments.

Supporters of the "Keep The Country Country" have continuously raised the need to include the actual capability and capacity of this 2-lane Kamehameha Highway in its land-use planning and decision-making. Thus far, the city nor state does not appear to have allocated sufficient funds to address or mitigate the escalating erosion impacts on this 100-year-old road.

Kamehameha Highway has also been regarded as one of the deadliest roads due to frequent traffic accidents. When a fatal accident happens, it is not unusual for residents for wait for hours to get to their destination. The road blockage could last a few hours or the other option is to take a detour drive around the other side of Oahu.

New Legislation for Wind Turbines

Too big, too close is no exaggeration when describing the Na Pua Makani wind turbines. To address the many concerns of the new wind project, I introduced a package of bills collectively known as POWER - People Overwhelmed by Wind Energy Ramifications.

Everyone living on the North Shore in 2012 will remember the three fires at Kahuku Wind from its battery system; the final, catastrophic fire spewed toxic gases for days and knocked the system off the grid for more than a year.

Kahuku residents are even more concerned today about health and safety risks associated with living so close to the new, massive turbines. They are concerned about tower collapse and blade throw that has occurred at other projects, including Auwahi Wind on Maui. They are concerned about infrasound, low frequency sound, incessant whoosh and grinding noises of the turbines, stray voltage, nighttime flashing lights, and shadow flicker.

The POWER Bill Package includes measures targeting the need for health studies and discounted electricity rates for residents burdened by living near the turbines, reasonable setbacks, and a siting process for renewable energy. The siting process will be critical to help prevent similar crises from happening again.

I also introduced a measure calling on Governor Ige to begin negotiations with Na Pua Makani to terminate this poorly located project. Something this big and this close to residents should never have been approved.

This divisive project threatens the health and well-being of the people of Kahuku and could harm the implementation of future renewable energy projects the State is relying on to meet its clean energy initiative. The Governor is in the best position to help reverse this terrible mistake.

Please come to the upcoming Town Hall meetings to learn more about the POWER package and other legislative ideas introduced by me, Reps Quinlan and Matsumoto, and Councilmember Tsuneyoshi, and to share your manao on pending legislation and community concerns.

Our Talk Story meetings will be held on Wednesday, February 5th, at Kahuku High and Intermediate School, or Tuesday, February 11th, at Waialua Elementary School. If you cannot make either of these meetings, CM Tsuneyoshi, Rep. Lisa Kitagawa and I will be hosting another meeting on Thursday, February 6th, at Kahaluu Elementary School. All meetings are from 6:30 to 8:00 pm.

My phone number is 586-7330. My email address is SenRiviere@capitol.hawaii.gov. Follow us on FaceBook or online at SenatorRiviere.com. Please visit us in Room 202 at the Capitol; or let's talk closer to home, maybe the next time we pass in the street. Mahalo.

Aloha friends and neighbors!

I want to extend a sincere mahalo for responding to my 2020 Issues Survey. Responses from engaged community members like you helped inform and shape this year's bill package. You identified some of our community's biggest issues, including the high cost of living, education and early learning, and improving environmental stewardship. While I wasn't able to fit every priority into this year's bill package, I'm confident that the following legislation will help improve our lives and make Hawaii's people and natural environment happier and healthier.

First and foremost, survey responses were overwhelmingly concerned about tackling our cost of living. Here are the four bills I'll be introducing to tackle the high cost of living in Hawaii:

Income Tax Reduction: Eliminates the income tax for those earning at or below the minimum wage and reduces rates for everyone else.

Child Tax Credit: Creates a tax credit for each taxpayer's dependent children, starting at $500 per child for those earning at or below minimum wage.

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts: Allows taxpayers to spend pre-tax dollars (reducing total taxable income) on dependent care expenses, including daycare, after school programs, and in-home care.

Exempt Food, Medical Services & Products, and Feminine Hygiene Products from the General Excise Tax: Makes food, medical services, and feminine hygiene products tax-free.

Earned Income Tax Credit: Makes the state earned income tax credit refundable and permanent.

Expand Refundable Food/Excise Tax Credit: Increases the allowable tax credit for food/GET expenses to $330 for minimum wage earners and expands it for everyone else.

Another major area of concern for survey respondents was the lack of affordable access to childcare, education, and early learning. Options are often too expensive, too far away, or simply not available.

Tax Credit for On-Site Childcare Facilities: Creates a tax credit for businesses with on-site childcare facilities.

Early Childhood Education Scholarships: Creates a scholarship program for University of Hawaii early childhood education students who commit to teach at least three years in a public prekindergarten classroom.

School Repair Subaccounts: Allocates dedicated funds each year to school principals for repair and maintenance projects minor enough to not need a permit or environmental impact statement.

Finally, many surveys prioritized environmental stewardship and government transparency. The unprecedented number of visitors coupled with numerous building projects around our islands are affecting our treasured natural resources.

Airplane Pamphlet: Requires airlines to distribute, alongside the agricultural declaration form, a pamphlet to visitors with information about protected species, hiking & ocean safety, emergency contacts, and more. The pamphlet will be developed by the Department of Business, Economics and Tourism in partnership with the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

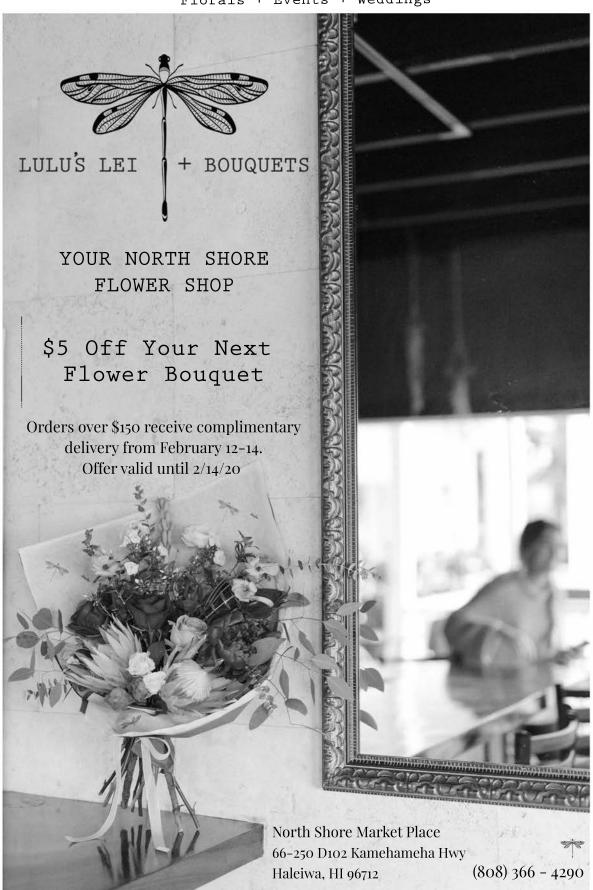

Environmental Impact Statement Website: Creates a central, user-friendly website for state and county environmental impact statement hearings, notices, and reports so community members will be informed via email when meetings will be held.

Making any of these ideas a reality will take your help! Submit testimony and engage in the legislative process. And if you have any suggestions, please feel free to share them with me so that we can work together for the long-term health and vitality of our community.

And as always, please don't hesitate to contact my office if you have any questions or concerns about happenings in our community. You can reach me at (808) 586-9490 or at repmatsumoto@capitol. hawaii.gov.

Aloha and Happy New Year!

It is hard to believe how fast the 2019 holiday season flew by and that we are now not only in a new year, but a new decade! I am hopeful that 2020 will be a great year for the North Shore community and we continue to work together towards great things and address community issues collaboratively and effectively.

As part of that work, I introduced two resolutions that are meant to support ongoing efforts and address concerns on the North Shore. Resolution 20-11 urges the City Administration to construct a canoe halau at Haleiwa Beach Park Mauka. As many community members are aware, there are no canoe halaus on the North Shore despite it being one of the most popular destinations for watersports. Constructing a canoe halau for the North Shore has been long overdue and I look forward to the passage of this resolution and working with the community and the City administration to make this a reality. I also introduced Resolution 20-12, which urges the City Department of Parks and Recreation and the State Department of Land and Natural Resources to adopt new rules relating to City and State permits issued to surfing contest promoters to ensure gender equity for all competitive surfing events held on the North Shore. I was honored to introduce this resolution in an effort to shed light and address the serious issue of gender inequity in competitive surfing. The late Congresswoman Patsy T. Mink was a visionary who paved the way for women athletes with her work on Title IX which has balanced the sports landscape and provided many more opportunities for all women, including my daughter, in not only their athletic goals, but also their academic and life goals. With the North Shore being the birthplace of surfing and it now being recognized as an Olympic event, I feel it there is no better time to take action to ensure gender equity within this beautiful sport.

Both resolutions were heard at the first meeting of the Committee on Parks, Community Services and Intergovernmental Affairs of the New Year and passed out for adoption with unanimous support. Both measures are scheduled to be heard at the first City Council meeting of the year which will be held on Wednesday, January 29th at 10 am at Honolulu Hale. If you have any questions about either resolution please feel free to contact our office at (808) 768-5002.

Wishing you and your ohana all the very best in 2020!

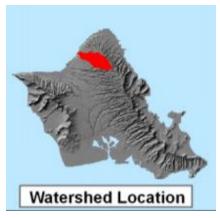

E Kala Mai Waimea

By Chad Durkin, Conservation Manager, Waimea Valley on the North Shore of Oʻahu

Have you ever wondered why Hawaiian place names are shared on different Islands? Examples include Kailua, Kona, Waialua and of course Waimea. Hawaiian place names often provide information about the location or environmental conditions of sites and these can be similar on multiple Islands. Waimea can be literally translated to reddish brown fresh water. Waimea is a town and land division on Hawaii Island, a river on Kauai, and a bay and valley or ahupua'a on Oahu. In Tonga Vaimea is a place name and in New Zealand the Maori people have a district called Waimea on the South Island.

In our winter months of the ho'oilo season, from October to April, rains can saturate the soil and lead to erosion and flash flooding. Storm water drainage results in run off from the natural areas of the 13.6 square mile watershed. Non-point source pollution from conservation land is recognized as a major contributor to the total loading of sediments in our Hawaiian streams. The reddish silt carried by flood waters is common throughout the islands and from a geological time perspective the Hawaiian Islands are rapidly eroding into the sea. Land use and management can reduce this run off and accrue benefits to the near shore marine ecosystem.

Waimea Valley conservation staff conduct native forest restoration and stream bank management to help minimize the erosion of soils into the tributary streams. Our Hui Hanai 'Aina volunteer program enables community members to participate in much of this work. The natural estuary and wetland area at the mouth of the river slows the flowing waters and allow sediments to settle out of the water column before the water enters the ocean. The removal of invasive species can also reduce the ecological changes on the landscape and forestall catastrophic erosion events such as land slides and rock falls.

Hawaiian poetry and stories often included figurative meanings called kaona. This may have been true for place names as well. Another translation of the word mea is 'things'. Fresh water things would include all the plants and animals that reside in Waimea. Some folks say plants just grow better here, but confirm it for yourself by visiting our fantastic collection of native Hawaiian and exotic plant specimens that make up Waimea's botanical collection. Admission is always free on your day of volunteering and you may get to plant some trees as part of your efforts here. Planting trees is a great way to reduce your carbon foot print and start the new year with great climate karma.

Questions regarding the safety of standing water or "brown water" in the coastal and inland areas of the State should be directed to the Department of Health, Clean Water Branch on Oahu at (808) 586-4309 during normal business hours.

Talking Story with Tom Jacobs

Let's Cool the School

I got a letter the other day from a volunteer fundraiser named Jill Komperda asking me to contribute money to buy air conditioners for Waialua High and Intermediate School ... I'm guessing window units.

But ... wait just a minute. We live in the richest country on earth, right? In the newest state in the richest country on earth, right? The newest state in the richest country on earth can't find enough money in its school facilities budget to buy air conditioners for every classroom in every school? And there's more bad news, school-aged boys and girls. The world is gonna get warmer, no matter what "the Donald" says. So, the temperatures in our unair-conditioned classrooms are gonna rise as sure as tutu knows how to make ahi poke.

On the other hand ... there's usually an "other hand," Jill makes the point that we are, after all, in Hawaii, and it does get hot, so why not help out our local school? Our school's vice principal, Neal Okamoto, heads a new DOE program that allows schools and communities to take the lead in cooling classrooms. And, Waimea Valley will give anyone making a donation of $100 or more before the end of May a family annual pass to the Valley. (I think I'd request the annual pass in my letter with my check.)

So ... I mailed a check in. Why don't you do the same? Be sure to write "Heat Abatement" on your check memo line and address your mail to:

Heat Abatement Waialua High and Intermediate School 67-160 Farrington Highway Waialua, Highway 96791

You can call Jill Komperda at 808-637-7499 with your questions or maybe just to thank her for spear-heading this program in our community. She is not a Waialua alumnus, and she has no keiki in the two schools ... just doing our community a service. Our keiki are our future. Go Bulldogs!

HAWAII'S FIRST WAVE POOL HAS A GREEN LIGHT

Honokea is back in the wave pool game after approval of their surf park resort proposal on Oahu. The $72 million facility received the green light by the Hawaii Community Development Authority. The 7-1 vote allows Honokea to do a feasibility study for a parcel of vacant state land in Kalaeloa on the West Side in the vicinity of the Kalaeloa Heritage Park and the Hoakalei Country Club. The company has 18 months to develop a case for its wave pool. According to a local newspaper the design shows images similar to the "wave garden cove" design, a 5 acre surf lagoon surrounded by a skate park, bungalows, SUP area and a lazy river ride. Wave Garden was first developed in Spain and was a 3 foot wave that lasted about 6 seconds. It is much improved for sure. There will be multiple wave pools once finished. Legend Brian Keaulana and CEO Keno Knieriem are behind Honokea and they describe the wave park to be a cultural celebration and a world class facility that will be a great place for training. Wave pools started about 1926 and are here to stay!

THE WORLD SURF LEAGUE'S SEASON KICKS OFF

Brodi Sale (HAW) and Kirra Pinkerton (USA) earned their very first Hawaii victories at the Sunset Pro Junior this month, the opening event of the 2020 season for the World Surf League (WSL) Hawaii/Tahiti Nui region. Pinkerton from California out surfed two-time Sunset Junior Pro winner Gabriela Bryan who ended up in third place. It was Honolulu's Leila Riccobuano right behind in 2nd and Haleiwa's Betty Lou Sakura Johnson was in fourth. Sakura Johnson was awarded the highest single wave score in the competition. Brodie Sale took the men's junior. Sale is from the Big Island and this was his first big win. "First final, first win so I'm super stoked," said Sale. "There was such a stacked field. My side of the draw, I had a really gnarly Quarterfinal heat, it was some of the best guys in our region. But every heat, every round is gnarly, especially out here. Whoever gets the wave can win so it's just about putting yourself in the right place and performing once you get the wave. This is a great way to start the year." Jackson Bunch was second and Haleiwa's Shion Crawford was third. Crarwford has had some good results recently and is one of the new breed of the North Shore's junior surfers that are sure to make a name for themselves around the world!

HEADS UP! RESOLUTION 20-12 PASSED FIRST MEETING

Resolution 20-12 dubbed "The Roaring 20's Resolution" states, "URGING THE CITY DEPARTMENT OF PARKS AND RECREATION AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES TO ADOPT NEW RULES RELATING TO CITY AND STATE PERMITS ISSUED TO SURFING CONTEST PROMOTERS TO ENSURE GENDER EQUITY FOR ALL COMPETITIVE SURFING EVENTS HELD

ON THE NORTH SHORE OF OAHU.

WHEREAS, female competitive surfers face discrimination at certain professional surfing contests and events in terms of inclusion in competitions, access to venues and facilities, resources, competition time, and pay; and

WHEREAS, groups like the Committee for Equity in Women's Surfing have recently made great strides in generating interest and fueling growing media coverage for women's surfing; and it goes on to say, In November 2018. big-wave surfer Keala Kennelly, a catalyst for women's surfing and big wave surfing, became the first female invitee in the decades-long history of the Eddie Aikau Invitational at Waimea Bay, for the 2018-2019 season: and

WHEREAS, unfortunately, despite this progress, gender discrimination still persists in professional surfing contests and events, including those that hold competitions on public land or otherwise utilize public venues or public resources; and it goes on. You can read the full resolution on line.

The resolution was drafted by North Shore representative Heidi Tsuneyoshi at the urging of myself, Keala Kennelly and the CEWS, Committee for Equity in Women's Surfing. The CEWS foundation with Sabrina Brennan was able to help get legislation passed is California that is working to give women equal rights in sports. This is important legislation that is helping Women athletes to gain equal access to sporting events and has helped prompt equal pay in the surfing industry. The resolution urges the City Parks departed to update it's rules to be sure our surfing wahine can surf in as many events as our kane. It is defiantly unbalanced now and has caused a basic decline in participation. This has to be worked on with all concerned citizens. This is a heads up that there will be more meetings and discussions and you will be able to testify on the issue. It will not be easy to work out but things have to change, Women must be included more in our surfing events here on the North Shore.

New Chamber Member Highlight: Aviator Nation

By Roxana A. Jimenez

Aviator Nation came to Haleiwa town last October and is the 11th location for the retail chain featuring the '70s lifestyle clothing brand. Paige Mycoskie, Aviator Nation's creator and owner, got the idea for her store from her love of all things '70s and vintage. Paige would wear her vintage finds and people on the street were literally asking to buy the clothes off her back. She then began adding her own patches and designs to her vintage pieces and Aviator Nation was born.

"All our clothes are pre-washed, pre-shrunk, made from high-quality yarn that can withstand the breakdown, so they're super soft. We're known for our soft fabrics," says North Shore store manager Kerri Emmons. Every Aviator Nation store features lightning bolt designs on the walls and on the clothing, which is inspired from Gerry Lopez' famous surf-board designs. The store has a cult following among celebrities and artists. "We get musicians coming in wanting to wear a full Aviator Nation outfit onstage," says Kerri.

Owner Paige, an avid surfer, has a heart for the North Shore community, and wants her retail space here to be used for community events, such as yoga, family movie nights, and live band performances. It's also important to her to support other female entrepreneurs. Paige says, "If I can inspire other people to make clothes in America, to pursue a career in fashion, to follow their passion, or even to start a business, then I feel like I'm doing good for the world."

Aviator Nation, 66-451 Kamehameha Hwy., Haleiwa, is open Monday through Sunday, 10am-7pm. For more information, contact 312-1152.

Dear Editor:

Someone pointed out something interesting on a post: When writing the date in 2020, write the year entirely. It could possibly protect you and prevent legal issues on paper work. For example:

If you just write 1/29/20, one could easily change it to 1/29/2017 by adding 17 and now your signature will be on an incorrect document. Just a precaution!

Karen

Aloha Neighbors,

I'm known by my friends as "Aunty Charlie". I was born in Scholfield Barracks. I was on the mainland but I'm now home to stay. I worked very hard and sacrifice to save and buy my home.

I want to share a few comments with you. Many people are still operating illegal vacation rentals. Please show respect. Respect your neighbors' quality of life and their right to quiet enjoyment in their homes. Respect the laws.

It's pilau for people to come to our island and disrespect our laws so they can illegally profit at the expense of their neighbors.

"When the toll of past surf injuries compounded one day, my back completely gave out and friends had to pull me from the water. The pain was excruciating. Having busted up seven vertebrae, the prognosis from some medical professionals was bleak: you'll never heal enough and get strong enough to go back in the water like you used to. Yet at Kahuku Medical Center, the rehab services team appreciated how much being able to be in the ocean meant to me. They understand surf culture and come from that world as well. They helped me do the hard work I needed to heal, and with their care, expertise and encouragement, I'm back doing what I love."

- Nick Gruen of Laie, professional surf photographer
