Turtle Bay Foundation Awards $100,000 in Scholarships to 41 Students

In May, the Turtle Bay Foundation awarded $100,000 in scholarships to 41 students pursuing higher education. The awards propel the organizations' giving to a new milestone – more than $1 million in scholarships for 300 students and grants for 70 nonprofits.

“We’re honored to award our largest scholarship package to date to deserving scholars who are the leaders and innovators of tomorrow,” said Tom Donovan, vice president and managing director of Turtle Bay Resort and president of Turtle Bay Foundation.

“We know that a quality education is critical to setting up our keiki for success, and as an organization, this is one of the most important contributions we can make,” Donovan added.

Blackstone, the owner of Turtle Bay Resort, provides significant financial support each year to advance the mission of the Turtle Bay Foundation as part of its commitment to invest in and uplift the surrounding North Shore communities.

Legislature Passes Historic Bill for Three-Year Pilot Program To Assess Carrying Capacity of Pūpūkea Marine Life Conservation District

By Denise Antolini, President, Mālama Pūpūkea-Waimea

On April 29, 2022, the Hawai'i Legislature unanimously passed a bill, SB3330, introduced by North Shore Senator Gil Riviere and supported by Representative Sean Quinlan, to fund a three-year pilot program administered by the State Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) to assess the "carrying capacity" of the Pūpūkea Marine Life Conservation District (MLCD). The bill received 100% supportive testimony and is awaiting the signature of Governor David Ige.

Established in 1983 and expanded to 100 acres in 2003, the Pūpūkea Marine Life Conservation District (MLCD) is one of only three MLCDs on O'ahu and eleven statewide. Based on "carrying capacity" studies conducted in 2018-2020, Hanauma Bay modernized its management system to reduce the impacts on marine life of overcrowding. That MLCD now has two "rest days" each week, limitations on visitors, and priority access for residents. In contrast, the Pūpūkea MLCD has no limitation on the number of people who can access or use the area. Certain areas of the Pūpūkea MLCD, particularly Kapo'o Tidepools and Sharks Cove, heavily promoted by the visitor industry, have become "loved to death" – pushing out residents who have long enjoyed the area and damaging marine life habitat.

As North Shore residents know, the Pūpūkea MLCD had a brief "rest period" during the early stages of the pandemic. Marine life quickly rebounded and extraordinary water clarity returned to the nearshore areas. During that period, Mālama Pūpūkea-Waimea conducted human use and biological surveys in the Kapo'o Tidepools and Sharks Cove areas. We found that, given a break from thousands of feet a day trampling the tidepools, the marine life rebounded quickly. In Kapo'o Tidepools alone, we counted over 70 different species of fish!

This unusual "COVID pause" gave our community the rare opportunity to see an ecosystem we love recover -- on its own, in real time. But the respite was brief. Tourism has bounced back to peak levels and is predicted to increase in the near future. North Shore residents know the beaches in this area have become more crowded, now every day of the week. Data back this up. Over the past ten years, MPW has observed a tripling in visitor use of sensitive areas like the Kapo'o Tidepools – now, between 1000-2000 people each day are trampling and impacting the marine life in this fragile, shallow-water area of the Pūpūkea MLCD. Perhaps not a coincidence, Mondays are when Hanauma Bay is closed, and social media is apparently redirecting first-time snorkelers to Kapo'o and Sharks Cove. Ironically, on high-surf days that close out nearby beaches, inexperienced visitors flock to wade in the Tidepools, unaware of the fragility and richness of that marine habitat.

Can the sensitive areas of the MLCD ecosystem sustain that level of use? The goal of SB3330 is to take the lessons learned from the "pandemic pause" and the Hanauma Bay experience, and determine how to better manage the diverse areas of the MLCD to achieve a healthy and abundant marine reserve in perpetuity. SB3330 also requires DLNR to report back to the Legislature in 2026, which will strengthen a future management plan for the Pūpūkea MLCD, supporting the goals of the State's "30x30 Holomua Initiative" to effectively manage 30% of Hawai'i's nearshore areas by 2030.

Mahalo to our elected representatives and our community for supporting the health and abundance of the Pūpūkea MLCD!

The Healer Stones of Kapaemahu

Opening at Bishop Museum June 17 is an exhibition that explores the hidden history and contemporary meaning of a beloved Honolulu monument. Co-curated by north shore residents

Joe Wilson & Dean Hamer with collaborator Hinaleimoana Wong-Kalu, the exhibition focuses on four boulders placed on Waikiki Beach in tribute to four legendary mahu - individuals of dual male and female spirit - who brought healing arts from Tahiti to Hawaii long ago.

Although the stones have survived for centuries, their story has been suppressed and the respected role of mahu erased. Through groundbreaking research, film, and art, the exhibition revitalizes this mo'olelo to help restore this storied site as a reminder of Hawaii's long tradition of inclusion, acceptance, and aloha.

The exhibition opens to previews on June 17, followed by a screening of PBS documentary,

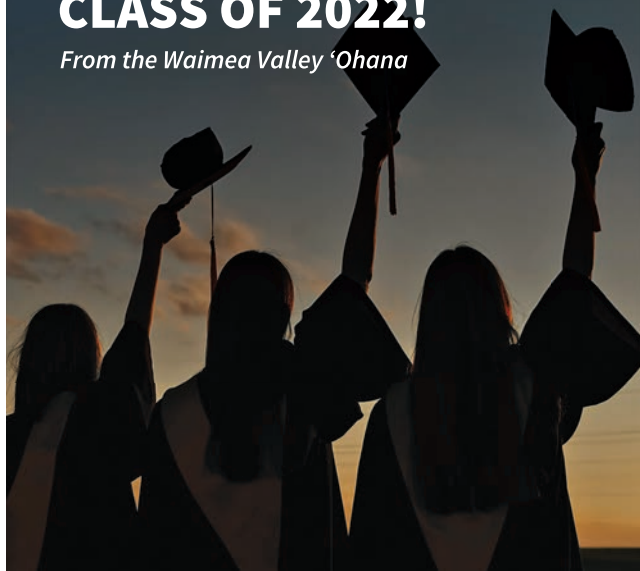

The Healer Stones of Kapaemahu, on the museum's Great Lawn. The exhibition runs through October 16.

Aloha,
 As a project in the making for decades, the Mayor has signed off to release funding for the construction of the Haleiwa Beach Park Mauka canoe halau project.

For too long the North Shore has been without a canoe halau, an important facility that is present in other paddling communities across the island. North Shore canoe clubs produce some of the island’s most talented and competitive paddling teams, despite the limited resources available to them. A contingent of leaders within the paddling community have worked for many years to have a public canoe halau in Haleiwa, similar to what has been constructed in Hawaii Kai and Ala Moana. During my time as a staffer and Councilmember, funding continued to be allocated for the canoe halau project, but nothing ever came to fruition. The paddling community continued to persevere, advocating for the project at meetings, garnering support from other paddling and community organizations and meeting with legislators and government officials to keep the project alive.

The Haleiwa Beach Park Mauka Canoe Halau project is funded for $1.5 million dollars to construct a new halau to be utilized for the storage of competition canoes. The project is supported by longstanding canoe clubs Manu O Ke Kai and Haleiwa Outrigger Canoe Club, who provide paddling opportunities for communities from Mililani to Laie. The canoe clubs combine to serve over 350 paddlers and also students at Kahuku High School, Waialua High School, Leilehua High School and Mililani High School. A public canoe halau provides a valuable service to canoe clubs by creating a central, secured storage facility for high-valued koa and fiberglass racing canoes. This project brings some equity to the North Shore and Windward paddling communities as there are no public canoe halau along the coast from Kailua to Makaha.

In 2020, I introduced a resolution urging the City administration to construct the canoe halau which was unanimously adopted. Following adoption of the resolution, we took part in a stakeholder meeting with supporters of the project and members of the City administration which included a follow-up site visit to the project location. In 2019 and 2021, I reappropriated the past funding for the project to allow the conversation to continue in hopes that we would get to a place where we could move the project forward.

I am very excited that we are beginning to make some headway with this important project. As the Department of Parks and Recreation winds down its projects for this fiscal year, they will begin new projects, including the canoe halau project, in the next fiscal year, which begins July 1st. We will continue to stay in touch with the department to ensure the project continues to progress and keep the community up to date with the updates on the project.

Mahalo for your continue support. Please do not hesitate to contact my office at 808-768-5002 or htsuneyoshi@honolulu.gov if you have any questions. MAHALO

NORTH SHORE REAL ESTATE TRENDS

by Richard Sterman (R)
of Sterman Realty

Real Estate - Still "The Best Investment"

In 1973, during a Spring break in California, I was in a car accident. I now call that my "Lucky Break" (even though it landed me in traction for about 60 days).

In 1974 I moved to Hawaii with $1200 in my pocket and a will to attend U.H. Grad School.

In 1976, I graduated from U.H. with a master's degree, had a prominent Bus-Boy job at the Kuilima Hotel and, that year, that "Lucky Break" took place after a check showed up in the mail for $17,000!

That was more money than I ever saw, so - of course - I bought a Sony Trinitron Color TV (and one for my parents back in Brooklyn as we never had one before that).

I didn't know what to do with the leftover money, so I took a free E F Hutton Adult Education Class up in Wahiawa on "Investments".

The teacher said, "Stocks and Bonds are good investments but Real Estate is the BEST INVESTMENT you can make!"

The next day I bought a Sunday paper, looked in the Real Estate section and found an ad for a vacant lot up in Pupukea.

Bottom Line - I was able to buy my first piece of real estate with just $6,000 down and built a house with what I had left over (after the 2 Color TVs).

The "Lucky Break" was not just that I could still walk & surf, nor that I received that money allowing me to invest, nor that I got the vacant lot and lumber for a crazy low price back then... but it was that the lady that I bought the land from, Iris Riber, became my mentor in real estate, I went to work for her at Iris Riber Realty in 1978 and just 3 years later I obtained my own Broker's license and formed Sterman Realty!

Thanks for reading all that, however, if you ask, "Why did that stock broker say, 'Real Estate is the best investment you can make'?", I think I finally figured out most of the reasons:

You can buy it with relatively little down payment.

You can get fairly low interest rates for the balance.

You can write off that Interest if you DO get a loan.

You can 'live' in the investment if you want.

If you DO live in it for 2 years, or more, you get some, or all, of the Capital Gains 'tax free' and then you can do this every 2 years.

If you DON'T live in it, you can deduct a certain amount of depreciation each year and then Exchange out of it 'Tax Free' for other Investment Properties.

You can fix the house up (sweat equity) and build value.

Equity will also grow on its own, especially when 'Inflation' flares up ... and ...

You can borrow 'equity' out of the house once it grows or sell Real Estate - that's probably why it was called, "The Best Investment!"

Representative
Lauren
Matsumoto
Serving You in District 45

Aloha friends and neighbors!

The 2022 Hawaii State Legislative Session has now adjourned. In the midst of the hustle and bustle at the capitol now that it has reopened and the excitement of community events allowing us to gather in person once more, I have been reflecting on my past 10 years in office. It is my honor and privilege to serve you in the State House. I am so proud of the accomplishments we have achieved so far, and I am so excited for the future. From the bottom of my heart, mahalo for working together with me for our community.

I am happy to share that my bill HB2213 Relating to Mail Theft passed through the legislature and has been sent to the Governor's desk. Package theft has been an increasing issue in our state. In our pre-session survey of the district, crime was a top issue. HB2213 establishes the criminal offense of mail theft to provide a solution for the increased theft of packages left outside of residences and businesses from third-party carriers like UPS and FedEx. For a full list of the 343 bills that passed this legislative session please visit www.RepMatsumoto.com.

Additionally, for the past several years I have been advocating to update the antiquated systems the state government employs to publish Environmental Impact Statements in order to create more transparency. I am happy to share that my resolution HR82 passed and will serve to update the EIS process to become a more user-friendly platform. .

One of my favorite things is to have both High School and College students join me in the office and community as interns. During this legislative session, we had one High School student (Keenan Yoshizawa, a Junior at Mililani High School) and one College student (Aiden Waldrep, a Sophomore at UH Manoa) join my office as interns. Both of these impressive young men were vital additions to our team this year and I cannot speak enough about how proud I am to see them succeed. It is students like them that make me so excited for our community and hopeful for the future of Hawaii.

If your child or someone you know is interested in an internship in my Capitol office, I would love to have them apply. Open to all High School Juniors and Seniors as well as College students of any level, the internship provides a unique opportunity to work with a legislator in the House of Representatives - giving students insight into our local legislative process and how we work to improve our community, district, and state. The Hawaii State Legislative Session usually takes place between January and May every year. Legislative Internships will begin on the first day of the Legislative Session in January and conclude in May. Year-round internships are also available for interested students. Acceptance into the High School and College Internship Program is based upon the applicant's experience and interests. Specific hours required for the internship will be agreed upon by the intern and myself and generally depend on scheduled events in the community. To apply, please visit my website www.RepMatsumoto.com.

As always, please don't hesitate to contact my office if you have any questions or concerns about happenings in our community. You can reach me at (808) 586-9490 or at

Aloha Kākou,

My name is Makua Rothman—candidate for Honolulu City Council District 2. I was born and raised on the north shore of Oahu and attended Hale'iwa Baptist preschool, Sunset Beach Elementary, and Kahuku High School.

Early life for me was not easy. At a young age I was houseless living in a tent on the beach. I understand a lot about what it's like to be stereotyped, put into a category, and have people doubt me, tell me the things that I would never accomplish not ever be anything because of the way that I grew up. Yet through it all I found my way by playing sports, community involvement, and getting in the water catching waves.

I surfed my first big wave heard around the world at the age of 18, became the WSL big wave world champion, and in 2021 surfed the biggest wave of my life. Through all the challenges and successes there was always one thing that I could consistently count on—the support of my community.

My life's work will now be dedicated to making sure that as I transition into public service the needs and interests of my community come first above all. As councilman I will be focusing on (1) public safety (2) community engagement (3) mental health & wellness, and (4) preservation. You can read more about me, my initiatives, and connect with my campaign at makuaforcouncil.com.

The kuleana is ours, and it is our responsibility to leave this place, our place Hawai'i better than it was left to us. I am stepping up to run for office and humbly ask again for my community's support.

Congratulations to all the graduates of the class of 2022.

TEHERE LA'AKEAKAIHONOLUA TAYLOR BLOMFIELD WINS, LONGBOARD TOUR HEATS UP

The North Shore's longboard surfer sensation Tehere La'akeakaihonolua Taylor Blomfield won the first event on the WSL Women's Longboard tour in Sydney, Australia. The GWM Sydney Surf Pro presented by Rip Curl was challenging at best. Surf was a mixture of tiny to challenging beach break conditions in mostly rainy on and off rainbow weather. The three time World Champion and Hawaiian battled her way to the final and took it out on the last nose ride in the final heat. Last season she wowed everyone with a switch foot tube ride at the surf ranch helping her to a ten point ride and the third World Title. She is one her way again. This season there are four events in the tour. Next up for the champ is an event in Brazil, then California and England. Honolua is a talented athlete. She not only longboards but also shortboards, skateboards, is a long time dirt biker and now snowboards as well. Honolua is coast to coast now, spending time in Carlsbad, California close to her sponsor O'Neill and more events. The tall, graceful athlete has many more years to come and is making Hawaii proud. Follow her on instagram and on the World Surf League site. Congratulations to Honolua!

MEXICO DUCT TAPE INVITATIONAL, MEXICO

A big congrats goes out to Rosie Jaffurs, one of the North Shore's best women longboarders. Rosie competed in Mexico at the Vans Duct Tape Invitational and made the final, placing fourth. Honolulu's Kelis Kaleopaa won the event so Hawaii was well represented! The surfers were hand picked to surf in the contest that was designed by longboard world champion Joel Tudor who is a part time resident here on the North Shore. Justin Quintal won in the men's division. Next one will be in Huntington Beach, California.

Mauka to Makai Ecosystem

Parker Powell, Conservation Manager, Waimea Valley located on O`ahu's North Shore

At Waimea Valley, we want our plants to be all that they can be. We support them from the time that they sprout, to the time they grow fruit and seeds, and throughout their lives to make room for the up and coming generations. As a seedling emerges from its bed of soil and leaves, it has one main goal, to make it to the top. It wants to grow and thrive (not unlike ourselves) and find a self-sustaining situation, complete with optimum sunlight, moisture, and nutrients. Maybe even one day, it will be big enough to produce seeds, and provide its own bed of leaves for the next generation to emerge from.

Conservation efforts to jump start new forests, remove invasive species, and preserve existing forest, have now exceeded the 10 year mark in Waimea Valley. We can now observe a noticeable impact that has been made to reduce soil erosion and produce healthier soils that are more readily available to absorb water, than our typical O`ahu soils that have been depleted by years of use and neglect, and inundation by invasive species.

Waimea, interpreted as 'red water', historically floods and getting caught up in the run-off is our topsoils and sediments that end up in our streams and eventually the ocean. Sedimentation of reefs is a major cause of coral stress and bleaching, and it is in our interest to reduce the amount of loose sediments that enter into our watershed through reforestation efforts, and help to protect marine ecosystems. However, the periodic connection of our river to the ocean is a natural process which allows for the eggs of the Hawaiian freshwater goby, or o`opu, to float down river into the sea where they reach juvenile stage, and eventually return to the freshwater streams to become adults. Waimea's main river known as Kamananui, contains 4 of the 5 species of o`opu.

One of the most fundamental forces making existence possible on planet Earth are our forests. They provide us with the fresh water we need to survive, clean air to breathe, and also create habitat for various forms of life. A main component of our forests are the trees and plants that make them up. Healthy forest ecosystems consist of plants well adapted to their environments, allowing for various processes to continue the cycle of life.

The conservation team would like to thank all of the volunteers that have supported our mauka forest restoration efforts, as it would not be possible without all of you. It truly shows what can be done with the work of many hands. We invite everyone willing and able to spend some time to hike with us up to our restoration sites through the Hanai 'aina volunteer program. Here we spend a few hours to malama by removing invasive plants to help existing natives, or plant more native Hawaiian species to boost the forest ecosystem.

To be a part of the positive change, watch our forests grow and enjoy your day outdoors, contact Melani Spielman at volunteers@waimeavalley.net for our forest restoration work days.

Ko'olauloa Health Center Supports Aspiring Healthcare Professionals

To encourage home-grown interest in healthcare careers, Ko'olauloa Health Center (KHC) awards scholarships to support college-bound Kahuku HS students who intend to pursue healthcare studies. This year, three awards were made. Congratulations to all!

Lillian Tanigofakimoana Teleasau Masoe Mataale, daughter of Jillian and Siasoi Mataale says that growing up with a grandmother who was diminished by strokes and visiting her dad in the ICU inspired her desire to pursue medical training so she could support and help others. As the oldest grandchild in her large family, Lillian has always been in the role of teacher, nurturer and care-giver. An active volunteer at school and leader in the LDS church, Lillian loves the beach, Samoan dance, and having fun at dance parties. She will be attending Grand Canyon University in the fall and pursuing a degree in nursing.

Eletise Haunani Tejada will attend BYU-Hawaii this fall. Daughter of Michael and Maria Tejada, Eletise intends to become a pediatrician with her sights set on the John Burns School of Medicine after BYUH. A member of HOSA (Health Occupation Students of America) for two years, her immediate goal is to become a certified medical assistant in the next year to support her pre-med education goals. Active in Red Raider student government, Eletise organized everything from school spirit competitions to blood bank drives and conservation projects. Eletise competed for Kahuku in track and field, soccer and as a cheerleader.

Helen Prow plans to pursue an LPN at Minnesota State College Southeast and move up from there to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing. Industrious to an extreme, Helen started a babysitting business and works for 10 families in addition to helping on her family's tropical flower farm, managing social media for two online businesses, and working at a retail business. Raised in Kaaawa by parents Denise and Marcell, Helen was a regular visitor at the assisted living facility in Punaluu before its closing. She is committed to Koolauloa and to returning to serve the community as a healthcare professional. A competitive swimmer, Helen also played waterpolo for Kahuku.

A Time of Change — and a Warning

By Carl Mazzanti, eMazzanti Technologies President

Graduation season is upon us — and it is time to move on.

While it may appear as though the hordes of high school, college, and other students are the only ones celebrating and looking forward to new horizons, that is not quite the case. Across industries and professions, hard-working individuals are also 'graduating' from one position to another — by getting promoted, moving to a new company, or opening their own business. Regardless of the specifics, they all share a common element: they take on more responsibility, so a part of their safety net has disappeared.

Opening new doors is exciting. Parading down a runway to get your diploma, finding out you have snared a promotion or opening the business of your dreams can be exhilarating. But it can also be a bit sobering because you are now taking on more responsibility while receiving less nurturing and coddling. Now more than ever, your actions will have consequences. A Chief Information Officer found out the hard way when he decided to use his company-issued mobile device to visit risky websites, accidentally downloading malware. The virus-laden files spread like wildfire. Eventually, it exposed all of the company's passwords. It was a sobering reminder that every time you move up a few steps, your actions can harm more people. So, you have to reach deep within yourself before doing something, however innocuous, and consider whether it aligns with everything you have learned until now.

The answer is not to freeze in place and do nothing. As your responsibilities increase, you need to ask yourself what you are doing, why you are doing it, and what your actions will mean to you, your loved ones, and your business. There are no simple answers. We all grow by exploring, making mistakes, and learning from them. But as you move up in your education and in the workplace, you are increasingly taking on the role of a shepherd, with the responsibility for a 'flock' that will continuously expand.

It's an awesome task with a lot of positive potential. But do not forget the lessons you have learned along the way. Recall the CIO who forgot, however briefly, and ended up crippling his company.

Carl Mazzanti is the President of eMazzanti Technologies - a firm specializing in Cyber Security and a proud resident of the North Shore.
